THE ENGLISH DEBATE SOCIETY

"It is the mark of an educated mind to be able to entertain a thought without accepting it."

-Aristotle

Debating is a powerful platform for honing expressive skills and articulating thoughts persuasively. The English Debating Society serves as an invaluable crucible cultivating in students the ability to perceive the world through diverse lenses. They learn to voice their convictions with clarity and embrace a spectrum of differing opinions.

Debaters are trained in various debating formats-Extempore, Turncoat, Block and Tackle, Oxford, Parliamentary, Asian Parliamentary, Cambridge, Modified Cambridge, Prague and Multi format debates.

We acknowledge the expertise and guidance of Mr. Parnab Mukherjee and Ms. Priyanka Kapuria who encourage and enrich the debaters and arm them with the required exposure.

THE MATHEMATICS SOCIETY

"Pure mathematics is, in its way, the poetry of logical ideas."

- Albert Einstein

The Society functions on the ideal of an unwavering commitment to fostering a genuine passion for Mathematics and nurturing the seeds of innovative thinking among students. Like poets crafting verses, our mathematical explorations have not only sought answers but have also unveiled the beauty and elegance that is inherent in logical ideas.

Class 8 students were part of an engaging session on "Verbal and Nonverbal Reasoning," led by two accomplished students of Class X, Nandini Jagwain and Drishti Todi. This interactive session not only clarified intricate concepts but also instilled a sense of reasoning and confidence in approaching mathematical challenges. In July, six girls of grade 11 participated in the virtual Mathematics Symposium, 'Mathelogics' organized by Neerja Modi School, Jaipur. The participants presented research papers on various topics.

The details are as follows:

1. Kashish Agarwal & Amber Gill "Mitigating Water logging Through Mathematical Modeling and Analysis"
2. Kanak Chandak & Manaswi Khamesra: "Mathematics behind Crime"
3. Raisa Gulati & Arsheen Kaur: "Mathematics in Indian Architecture"

Pari Shah and Palak Vohra, in collaboration with the entire Mathematics department, conducted a session on "Out of the Box Thinking" for a group of students of grade 9. This session aimed to foster innovative problem-solving skills in students.

Research papers of Pari Shah, Nishika Shah (in collaboration with Diva Moriani), and Drishana Bacchawat were published as a part of the DSR (Deserving Scholars and Researchers) program. This was a component of International Mathematics Symposium on "Innovative Teaching Practices" at Queen's College, Oxford University, UK.

The details are as follows:

1. Pari Shah: "Non-Routine Problem Solving Strategies"
2. Drishana Bacchawat: "Introducing the History of Mathematics in the School Curriculum"
3. Nishika Shah (in collaboration with Diva Moriani): "Using Technology to Learn Mathematics"

The academic year concluded with a session on "Non-Routine Problem Solving Strategies" in September, conducted by the Mathematics Society President, Pari Shah, along with Palak Vohra. This session was based on the research paper presented at the Oxford Symposium.

THE SCIENCE SOCIETY

Science emphasizes a thirst for knowledge and curiosity that seeks to answer some of the greatest questions ever asked. The Science Society provides a platform for all students to develop their scientific aptitude and ignite their curiosity about every little phenomenon that occurs around them.

The Society conducted several activities for students, this year.

1. Know Your Skin:

THE ENVIRONMENT CLUB

The environment is where we all meet, and where we all have a mutual interest, it is the one thing all of us share

- Ladybird Johnson

PRAKRITI - The Environment Club at Mayo College Girls' School, offers a platform to the students of grades IX to XII to fulfil their commitment towards bettering our environment. Its members are encouraged to engage in various enriching activities and discussions regarding environmental issues faced by mankind in present times or those that might cause concern if current actions continue. These issues include climate change, overpopulation, pollution and inefficiency in following the SDGs. The club's main aim has always been to instill a sense of sensitivity and empathy in students and motivate them to take cohesive, collaborative, and effective steps towards environment conservation, and protection, and addressing issues of global importance in ways that are creative and interactive.

PRAKRITI conducted an activity where in students were made to understand the significance of the pH level of water, and how a change in the required composition can have drastic effects on humans and the environment. Girls tested the pH level of different water samples using pH strips. This gave an insight into how anthropogenic activities can affect not only aquatic organisms but also the terrestrial ecosystem.

Students watched a presentation on climate change and its disastrous impact on all abiotic and biotic organisms and how it causes natural disasters. They watched a presentation on the flora of the school campus. This sensitized and educated the club members about their surroundings. There after a practical activity was organized wherein the students had to go around the campus to collect the flowers and leaves they had learned about. It was an interactive activity that helped understand why one needs to conserve the environment.

The club also organized a logo-designing activity where its members were expected to think out of the box and unleash their creativity to produce a logo that, as per them, defined the club 'PRAKRITI'. One wanted to see what the club meant to its members and what magic can be created when their imagination is put on paper.

There are a variety of birds present on the campus. Bird feeders were placed for them at various points. These bird feeders were made out of ice cream sticks and clay.

The Environment Club introduced a student group - "Green Brigade" - who were given the responsibility of energy conservation. The members were assigned different spaces in the school building. They were required to make sure that no lights or fans were switched on unnecessarily.

The "Mayocology" is an upcycling project which was an initiative of students. The students of the club collaborated to upcycle pens, using paper to make the body and cap of the pen. Faded white singlets were also Upcycled by reprinting leaves and other patterns.

The Environment Club conducted a two-day TERI workshop on the 21st and 22nd of August, 2023 for the students of Environmental Science, Environmental Applications, and Environment Management. The resource persons for the workshop were Dr. Livleen K Kahlon, Ms. Taru Mehta, and Dr. Avantika Singh who gave valuable insights on topics like Leadership and Sustainability. They also discussed about 'Rajasthan from the lens of climate change'. This workshop helped our students to discover the unknown leader in them and understand if 'Just Transition' can be a solution for our future. They enlightened us with various environmental terminologies and concepts such as Carbon Footprint and Sustainable development.

Days of public importance such as World Environment Day and Ozone Day are celebrated by the Environmental Club Activities such as essays and poem writers article writing, poster making, and presentations are organized

In totality, the club provides space for young environmentalists to expand their horizons, and think and act beyond the conventional way. We create conscious and driven youth who will in the future become change-makers.

The students of Asha engaged in a variety of activities, fostering meaningful connections with underprivileged children from Bal Prakash Ashram. The overarching goal of these initiatives was to create a positive impact on our students and the underprivileged children, enriching lives and hearts alike.

One of the notable activities involved an enriching Mathematics session for the underprivileged children, skillfully blending learning with enjoyment. This session introduced fundamental concepts of numbers, particularly addition, in a creative and colorful manner. Instead of conventional teaching approaches, engaging worksheets were designed.

In a specific section of Bal Prakash Ashram, a cleanliness drive was conducted to improve hygiene standards. This initiative aimed to provide a clean and healthy environment for the members of the Ashram.

A storytelling session was organized by students from the 9th and 10th grades. Witnessing the children wholeheartedly engage and actively participate in the storytelling session was a heartening experience.

Under the initiative 'Anant Vikas,' a workshop was conducted to encourage service-learning in our students through volunteering in rural India. This initiative shed light on how even small actions can have a profound impact on the lives of people.

The year 2023 was marked by deeply meaningful connections that will be cherished for a lifetime.

PRAYAS

This year, the students of Prayas were involved in a variety of activities. The main objective was to provide employment opportunities to villagers.

A skill development workshop was organized for the women of Jhatiya village. Vocational skills such as sewing and making of 'gota patti' flowers was taught. The Gota Patti industry is a good source of self employment. Students visited the Government school in Jhatiya village. There they interacted with the students and teachers of the village and taught them how to make vermicompost out of cow dung. They encouraged the villagers to make it at home too.

A workshop was organized by Ms. Hriitu Rana, who spoke about the importance of providing employment opportunities to villagers in the easiest and cheapest way possible. She also talked about her campaign, 'Nirmal Jal' which aims to provide safe drinking water to every household.

Mumal Kanwar and Prisha Singhal participated in the Ladakh Social Service Project hosted by Scindia School, Gwalior. There, they constructed a library for the students of Lamdon School, Shey, Ladakh.

SPARSH

The school community has always upheld the values of empathy, inclusivity, and social responsibility, and nowhere is this commitment more evident than in the endeavors of 'SPARSH.'

SPARSH, our community service domain, supports mentally challenged individuals.

The year began with an educational talk by Ms. Kshama Kaushik, Director and Special Educator at Meenu Manovikas Kendra, Chachiawas. She spoke about various learning disabilities and emphasized the vital role of special educators in schools. The talk set the stage for a year of meaningful engagement.

This was followed by an awareness session conducted by Ms Surabhi Aivalli, one of our Presidents. She spoke on Autism, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Mental retardation, and Cerebral palsy.

Students visited Shubhda Special School in Ajmer. During this visit, they not only interacted and bonded with individuals with special needs but also actively participated in community initiatives.

Students also engaged in a plantation drive and a cleanliness drive, contributing to 'Swachhta Pakhwada'-an initiative aimed at cleanliness and hygiene.

Students put up game stalls during the Foundation Day fete. They collaborated with Meenu Manovikas Kendra and Shubhda. These stalls showcased the brilliant art and craft products created by the special children.

SPARSH not only enriches the lives of those it supports but also helps to shape socially conscious individuals. These students are committed to creating a more inclusive society, and they serve as a testament to the power of empathy and right action.

SWIMMING

"If you think your sport is hard, try doing it while holding your breath."

Swimming is more than a sport; it's a vital life skill. Its rhythmic strokes sculpt not only physique but also confidence. From the joy of gliding through water to the practicality of rescuing others, swimming embodies both physical exercise and mental strength. Its adaptability as a workout, a social endeavor, and a means of self-reliance underscores its significance as both an art form and a survival tool—a testament to our human connection with water. In a world where water is both serene and unpredictable, swimming becomes a conduit of life, and vitality, and an essential connection with the aquatic world. Swimming is a mandatory sport for all students in the school.

In the academic year 2023-24, girls participated in the following tournaments and achieved various accolades as mentioned below...
